Truman rang doorbells in San Francisco to kick-off a 4-day nationwide "dollars for Democrats" drive. The bill failed to arrive when it lodged in a fire escape. One of Truman's aides retrieved it.

India Offers Far East Plan

Menon Sounding Out Delegates On Settlement

United Nations, N.Y. — India's veteran mediator V. K. Krishna Menon has been sounding out delegates from both sides of the Iron Curtain with a plan aimed at breaking the Formosa deadlock. Informants said Menon, who has played a middle role in helping solve past east-west disagreements at the U.N., wants to make the off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, a no-man's land while a political settlement is sought for Formosa.

Under this proposal, the sources said, the Chinese nationalists would pull their armed forces from the islands, while the red Chinese would promise not to attempt any landings during negotiations.

The Indians are understood to feel that next Tuesday—when the talks between U.S. and red Chinese ambassadors resume in Warsaw—will be the critical stage in the bargaining session between the United States and red China.

Little Rock Votes On Integration

Little Rock, Ark. — Election officials predict a heavy vote in today's crucial referendum on the integration of Little Rock schools.

The ballot offers a choice of allowing Negroes to attend all schools in the Little Rock school district, or restricting them to their own segregated schools.

There are about 42,000 eligible voters, including 8,000 Negroes. Polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 7:30 p.m.

Tension over the election has been rising during the past few days.

Last night Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who closed the city's four high schools two weeks ago in a move to avoid immediate integration, appealed for a heavy turnout at the polls.

Gale Perils Southeast North Carolina Coast

Alters Course During Night, Apparently Sparing South Carolina Region

Wilmington, N.C. — Hurricane Helene aimed the fury of her winds and waters toward North Carolina's southeastern coast late this morning. This "dangerous" hurricane, her central winds spinning 125 miles an hour, was located at 9 a.m. 40 miles south of Cape Fear, a point of land jutting into the seething Atlantic 30 miles south of Wilmington. The storm's forward speed was 10 miles an hour.

New Convoy Lands Stores

Termed Biggest, Most Successful Of Offshore War

BY FORREST EDWARDS

Quemoy — The biggest and most successful Chinese nationalist convoy of the off-shore war reached Quemoy today with supplies for the besieged island.

The nationalists did not immediately announce the extent of the latest supply mission to push through communist shellfire. But from a vantage point overlooking Lialo beach I could see at least three or four times as many landing craft as came ashore yesterday.

A nationalist military spokesman said 18 amphibious vehicles clambered onto the beach yesterday. Judging from the capacity of the Alligator craft, their total load could have been up to 54 tons.

59 Landing Craft

Today's supplies came in 59 landing craft. They carried a possible maximum of 177 tons of supplies. It has been estimated the 80,000 to 100,000-man Quemoy garrison needs 350 tons daily to stay at top combat capability.

Alligators and other landing craft cast off from U.S.-escorted nationalist supply ships standing outside red artillery range and swarmed to four separate landing areas.

As they came in shells splashed all around them and hit the beach. There was one very near miss which caused a craft to stop for a few seconds, but I saw no direct hits.

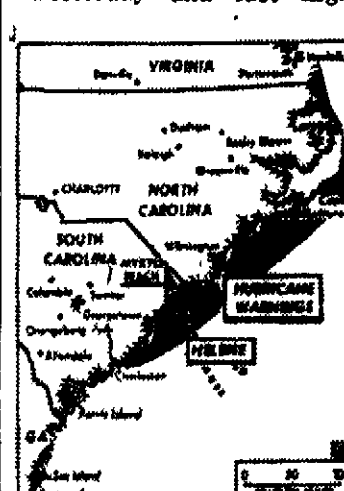

Labor Party Against War to Save Quemoy

Scarborough, England — Leaders of the British labor party declared today Britain "should neither participate in nor support a war to defend Quemoy."

The Far East situation was uppermost in the minds of delegates arriving at this Yorkshire seaside resort for the party's annual convention opening on Monday.

A resolution warning the government to keep out of any fighting that might break out over China's offshore islands was drafted as the first business to come up.

she had followed a northwest course, but today she swung to the north.

"This would indicate that the center would move very close to Cape Fear late this forenoon attended by winds of 90 to 125 miles per hour in this area and northeastward to Cape Hatteras," said the weather bureau's 9 o'clock advisory.

After the 9 a.m. advisory, North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges left his Raleigh office and flew to Wilmington, the Cape Fear river port city of 50,000 about 25 miles upstream from the ocean.

NBC Will Probe Charges Against '21' Quiz Show

New York — The National Broadcasting Co. says it will launch an immediate investigation into charges by a second former contestant on the quiz show "21" that the program was fixed.

Artist James Snodgrass, 35, said yesterday he had received answers in advance and was told when to miss after a series of matches with Hank Bloomgarden, a $92,500 winner. Snodgrass took home $4,000.

Jack Barry and Dan Enright, co-producers of the program, declined comment.

Herbert Stempel, another former "21" contestant, charged recently he was coached on answers and told to miss questions as he compiled winnings of $49,000 on the show.

Barry, Enright and NBC denied Stempel's allegations. Snodgrass would not give the source of his coaching, but he did say Barry and Enright were not implicated in the rigging.

UAW Local Hits at 2 Work Stoppages

Milwaukee — Members of Local 75 of the United Auto Workers Friday night approved a strongly worded resolution denouncing recent work stoppages which twice this week halted production at the American Motors Corp. plant here.

Herman Steffes, recording secretary, said the resolution was aimed at "unthinking members" whose actions stopped work 30 minutes Wednesday and had caused the firm to shut down the assembly line and sent workers home early on Monday.

Steffes said the members gave "an overwhelming vote of confidence" to the union's executive board which drew up the resolution. The resolution was passed on a voice vote at a closed meeting attended by about 3,500 union members, employees at AMC's body plant. The firm produces Rambler cars.

Japan Reports 241 Persons Die in Typhoon

442,548 Homeless And 1,270 Missing In Winds in Floods

BY DAVID LANCASHIRE

Tokyo — Typhoon Ida left death and desolation in central Japan today. Rescue crews worked frantically to clear the damage.

National police reported 241 dead from the typhoon's ripping winds and floods, 1,270 missing, and 442,548 homeless.

Almost a half million houses were flooded and 30,000 acres of rice paddies ruined.

The known casualty toll was expected to rise as communications with the disaster areas were fully restored.

A half dozen villages on the scenic Izu peninsula 70 miles below Tokyo were struck by 100 mile an hour winds and raging floods. Newspaper reports said 80 bodies were recovered from the swollen Kano river and 600 were missing. Police confirmed at least 38 killed in that area.

Landslide Tragedies

Entire families were reported buried alive in landslides. In Tokyo, drenched by a record 154-inch rainfall, police said 23 persons were killed and 14 missing. Four were electrocuted by broken power lines.

Firemen, troops and volunteer rescue crews were dispatched from Mishima and Numazu to the Izu peninsula. Tokyo's police and firemen worked around the clock and troops were mobilized to mop up damage. U. S. military crews worked with them.

Skies over the city were sunny this afternoon as Ida, named typhoon No. 22 and classified as one of the worst ever to approach the island nation, headed north still packing 50 m. p. h. winds.

The weather bureau said the typhoon may hit Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, tonight.

Radioactive Ragweed May Help Trace Pollen

Upton, N.Y. — Scientists are injecting ragweed plants with radioactive phosphorus in an effort to develop accurate ways of tracing clouds of hay fever-causing pollen.

Dr. Eugene C. Ogden, a botanist for New York state, explained yesterday he hopes to be able to trace the radioactive pollen by means of a Geiger counter. He added that the amount of radioactivity put into the experimental pollen is "so negligible that it could not possibly cause any harm."

One object of the experiment is to develop better ways of determining the travel pattern of pollen through the air. Another is to perfect a sampling device for measuring the amount of pollen in the atmosphere.

Anti-Red Military Leader in Burma Will be Premier

Promises Continued Neutrality In Nation's Foreign Affairs

Rangoon, Burma — Gen. Ne Win, staunchly anti-communist head of the armed forces, controlled Burma today. He stepped in to halt political feuding which threatened to give communists the balance of power.

Premier U Nu announced last night that he will resign Oct. 28 so Win can be named premier to arrange free elections.

Win said he will continue Burma's neutral policy in foreign affairs. This little Southeast Asian republic of 19 million persons between Thailand and India has a 1,500-mile border with red China.

The army seized power early yesterday, moving swiftly to control key points after two days of rumors that a coup was impending. An army communique said the seizure was to preserve law, order and democracy.

After daylong discussions, U Nu announced that Win had accepted his invitation to become premier at a meeting of parliament in one month.

Fights Communists

Win, 48, was deputy premier in 1950 and earlier served as defense minister. He is commander in chief of the armed forces, which consist primarily of the army of 60,000 to 80,000 men.

Communists have tried to penetrate and subvert his army, Win has said. "We must fight the reds tooth and nail."

Like many Southeast Asian leaders, Win has visited Washington. While there last year for medical treatments he talked with U.S. military men.

In a nationwide broadcast asking support for the general, U Nu said:

"We intended to hold general elections in November this year, but we came to realize that (they) could not be free and fair. I invited to Gen. Win to make arrangements essential for holding such free elections within six months."

Sought Red Support

U Nu had scheduled the November elections in hopes of bolstering his government on Highway 175 about 3½ after a split last June in his miles east of Menomonee political party, which has ruled Burma since it won independence from Britain in 1948.

This party, the anti-fascist

People's Freedom League, split into a socialist faction led by former Deputy Premiers U Ba Swe and U Kyan Nyein and a faction of U Nu's supporters.

To squeak through on a confidence vote keeping himself in power, U Nu courted communist support. In August he legalized the communist party which had been fighting a guerrilla war against the government.

This gave the communists, who openly proclaimed their intention to "create a communist world," a chance to hold the balance of power between U Nu and U Ba Swe, a bitter anti-communist. No party appeared strong enough to win an election and form a stable government.

Hour Hands Pushed Back This Weekend

An extra hour of sleep—that hour you missed last April—is on the agenda for the weekend.

The witching hour is 2 a.m. Sunday for that's when Wisconsin residents will bid farewell to daylight saving time and push clock hands back one hour to 1 a.m.

It may take awhile to get accustomed to the new schedule and it may be disconcerting to find darkness descending earlier but the return to central standard time has at least one good point:

You'll be able to listen to World Series games emanating from New York at 11 a.m., just in time for the lunch hour. Since New York doesn't go off DST until a month later—neither does Chicago—the games will be broadcast two hours earlier than those emanating from Milwaukee.

2 Soldiers Killed as Automobile Hits Pole

Milwaukee — The deaths of two soldiers from an army Nike missile base early today raised Wisconsin's 1958 traffic fatality count to 586, compared with 651 on this date last year.

Wallace Helm and Robert DeMaane, 20-year-old soldiers from the army Nike base near Lannon, Wis., were killed early today when their auto struck a telephone pole on Highway 175 about 3½ miles east of Menomonee Falls in Washington county. Both soldiers came from other states, but their hometowns were not released immediately by army officials.

Experts Unable to Find Trace Of Missing Vanguard Satellite

Washington — The defense department said today the navy Vanguard satellite launched yesterday did not go into orbit and burned up flying in the earth's atmosphere.

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — A basketball sized Vanguard satellite geared to probe weather conditions was still lost today.

The 3 stage rocket blasted into space with its 22-pound payload yesterday, but then scientists are not sure what happened.

Received Signal

Two scientists at Johannesburg, South Africa, who picked up an early signal from the satellite said they believed it wound up in the Indian ocean.

Douglas Hogg and William Porter at a tracking station in Johannesburg said they received the signal 38 minutes after launching. The satellite was traveling fast and too low to last long, they said. Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, appeared to be very pessimistic. He told reporters there was a remote possibility that Vanguard could be whirling around the globe, "but the chances are greater that the satellite is not in orbit."

The chief of the Vanguard project apparently believed that the satellite still was in space, however. He said the trajectory of the rocket and the early flight of the satellite appeared to be normal.

He said it would be several days before the fate of the satellite is known for sure. It looked like another Vanguard failure, the sixth in seven tries.

Navy scientists sought to reduce telemetry data taken on the flight to pick up clues on the satellite's whereabouts.

Shortly after what appeared to be a perfect launching, the engines of the trim 22,500-pound rocket fired successfully, but only baffling silence followed until Hagen brought newsmen up to date. The satellites shrieking signal was picked up normally by three stations just after liftoff, he said, but the moon was not heard on what should have been its first pass over San Diego, Calif.

The gold plated satellite, the third of its size to be blasted into space, carried two light sensitive photoelectric cells which would measure the earth's cloud cover for the first time.

Sought to Trace Storms

The moon had a mission of learning more about the behavior of serious storms, such as hurricanes and typhoons, in scientists' quest to control the weather pattern around the world.

No matter what happened, however, the Vanguard program itself is still very much alive.

"We have four more Vanguard rockets left which are scheduled for launching with satellites during the International Geophysical Year," Hagen said.

Officials Discuss Future for Industrial Expansion in North

Rhineland — With an autumn sun glistening on Boom lake as a backdrop, 130 business and municipal officials met here Thursday to examine the assets and liabilities of northern Wisconsin for industrial expansion at a workshop planned by the State Division of Industrial Development.

The name of the lake might have been used as part of the subject matter. It is supposed to have received its name from the boom days of Wisconsin logging. A map in the meeting room, showing population losses in parts of northern Wisconsin, provided the contrast.

While the tone of the session was one of optimism, there was a frank recognition of obstacles to be overcome.

Folke Becker, Rhineland Paper company board chairman, described the paper industry "as somewhat over-expanded today" and said a solution had to be found for a growing surplus of hardwood raw products. Robert Fick, director of industrial development for Public Service Corporation, said northern Wisconsin should face up to the fact of its distance from markets and said promoters should stress that "additional productivity per employee can overcome this added transportation cost."

Tax Structure

Wisconsin's tax structure always raised at these conferences, came in for queries over sales taxes.

John H. Benson, new director of the state division, put the topic back to his questioners. Isn't the problem one of examining the entire tax structure in Wisconsin as it relates to industry more important than the old arguments over a sales tax? he asked. The important thing, he said, was for community leaders to let legislators know what they are thinking about taxes.

"When you hold up a mirror, you are looking directly at the guy who's responsible for our present tax structure. I happen to be a non-political character because I happen to believe neither the Republicans or the Democrats have a monopoly on trying to create jobs in Wisconsin.

"The time to do something about government is when you are next to a telephone... when your state senators and assemblymen are in town," Benson said.

What about the assets of northern Wisconsin for industry?

Labor Plentiful

Becker said these include a plentiful supply of semi-skilled labor with good facilities for vocational training. C. W. Jewel, president of the Rhineland Development corporation, said recreation facilities, lakes, and climate can be exploited because industrialists have proved "they like to come up here in the first place" and plant workers would follow.

Ward Smith, woodland superintendent for Rhineland Paper company, listed water supply as a large asset. The 11-county area from Lake Superior to Green bay has 336,000 acres of surface water as well as the headwaters of such streams as the Wisconsin and Menominee rivers, he said.

Smith reported electrical power costs in upstate Wisconsin are little different from other parts of the Middle West. He pointed out coal is received at water rates at Ashland and Marinette and predicted the completion of the St. Lawrence seaway would add new transportation outlets to potential markets.

New Markets

Most of those at the conference lived away from port cities, but the hope of new markets and raw materials for manufacture in new plants was mentioned repeatedly. Benson reported his office would complete in six months a survey on Wisconsin potential for material which can be brought to the state for manufacture through the seaway.

"We can have 10 million ports. But if there is no market for what they can bring in here, it isn't going to do any good," he said.

In summarizing the aims of his office, Benson said it would promote to the extent of its budget the fact that local community development corporations exist in Wisconsin and are ready to swing into action. In looking for new prospects, Benson said the primary "bird in the hand" of keeping Wisconsin industry and helping it to expand within the state should not be shoved into a secondary position.

The conference took place amid a local example of the work of a development corporation.

Six members of the Rhineland Development corporation this week announced purchase of 15 acres of land, buildings and railroad siding of the Atlas Plywood corporation, which closed its plant last January, to hold the site for industrial prospects. The city council had rejected a plan to buy the property for $32,000. It had an assessed valuation of $90,000.

The purchasers described their step as "evidence of our faith in the industrial future of Rhineland."

Anti-Coagulant Drugs Prove Effective After Heart Attack

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

What can a person do to ward off heart attacks, especially after having had one? Several things — which I'll mention presently.

There is an intensive search for drugs that will help. One question on my desk today concerns Dr. Molner drugs that retard the coagulation of the blood, the aim being to prevent or retard the formation of clots, since if a clot happens to lodge in the arteries feeding the heart muscle, you have a coronary thrombosis, or heart attack.

Mrs. C. M. H. says her husband has been getting one of these drugs, but he has been told that other patients, after a certain length of time, were taken off the drug for fear of some sort of danger.

Nobody, apparently, gave Mrs. H. and her husband any specific idea of what the danger might be, so they are frightened without knowing opposite effect that has to be exactly what they fear. This watched. In this case, keeping the blood from coagulating carries a need to avoid going so far that excess bleeding results. But we can gauge this through the pro-thrombin tests.

Very important, however, is this: Drugs can do only so much. Major steps that help prevent heart attacks are quite a bit. Some take the avoidance of excessive (not drugs a lot longer than others do.

Whether short or long, the emotional stress; avoiding or treatment requires careful correcting overweight; and dosage. How much of the clotting action of the blood is retarded by the drug? That's the question. So a process known as a pro-thrombin test is used from time to time, to guide the doctor in correct dosage.

If you don't get enough of the drug, you don't benefit by sufficient anti-clotting action. If you get too much there may be bleeding, without any obvious wound, from gums, nose, intestinal tract or urinary tract.

Bleeding a Clue

A little such bleeding is not harmful. In fact, minor bleeding of this sort is a good and useful clue which lets you know that an ample dose is being given. Conversely, stopping the drug (or sometimes giving Vitamin K) corrects this bleeding tendency.

These drugs are being used quite extensively, and records being kept of patients seem to indicate that their use does indeed bring a lower recurrence rate for subsequent heart attacks.

As with any powerful drug, we would be unwise indeed to give the drugs at all without good reason. For every good effect, there has to be some opposite effect that has to be exactly what they fear. This watched. In this case, keeping the blood from coagulating carries a need to avoid going so far that excess bleeding results. But we can gauge this through the pro-thrombin tests.

Very important, however, is this: Drugs can do only so much. Major steps that help prevent heart attacks are quite a bit. Some take the avoidance of excessive (not drugs a lot longer than others do.

Board Told Bellaire Park Top Scenic Spot

Consultants Advise Keeping Property 'Close to Nature'

Plans for development of Bellaire park should be aimed at keeping the area as close to nature as possible with a minimum of frills, members of the park board and engineering consultants agreed Friday.

William Longnecker, professor of landscape architecture at the University of Wisconsin, and Arthur Johnson, assistant landscape architect for the city of Madison, toured the park area Friday and reported their conclusions to Planner E. A. Petranek and members of the board.

They advised acquiring all of the hillside property abutting the park, except where property owners register strong objections. Longnecker recommended retention of as much of the present natural vegetation and trees as possible.

possible. He said picnic sites should be confined to the area south of the Pacific street bridge, near the Fox river.

"The park could be maintained in a near natural state for 100 years," Petranek commented.

Nature Study

Longnecker said the area would lend itself to development of bird and flower paths. He agreed with board members that no permanent type road should be built through the park. A cinder path, with gates at either end, could be built for maintenance vehicles only, he added.

A series of small pools to the north of the bridge would make the park an outstanding scenic attraction. Johnson declared.

Both consultants agreed the finger-like projection of the park near Bellaire court should be left alone.

Fill Shoreline

Board Sec. Arthur Jones told of plans to fill in the Fox River shoreline bordering the park area. Plans for the project have been sent to the army corps of engineers in Chicago for approval. The shoreline would be filled in at an average of 60 feet for a distance of about 1,600 feet along the park's river frontage, he said.

The filled in shoreline would be landscaped and would slope gradually to the river, Jones explained.

Johnson and Longnecker indicated some sort of parking area should be located near the river drive, but Jones and Ald. Douglas Ogilvie said property owners wouldn't like it. Jones said cars could park along one side of the road.

Petranek said that he would submit two plans for the riverside drive — one with, and the other without, a turnaround area for cars.

A Special Committee of the Citizens advisory committee to the state department of public welfare met Friday in Appleton to observe and study operation of the Huber law in Outagamie county. Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg, second from right, is chairman of the committee. From left are G. M. Parker, of the division of correction, Madison; William Platz, assistant attorney general, Madison; R. A. Holzhauser, Marquette university guidance center, Milwaukee; Sanger Powers, director of the division of correction, Madison; Judge Schmieg and Fred Goff, Dane county sheriff. They are shown touring the county jail.

The U. S. Weather bureau made clear very early that Helene was an extremely dangerous storm. It warned that storm tides would be 10 feet higher than normal — perhaps higher in some places. Low coastal areas would be flooded and people who didn't get out before the storm hit wouldn't get out.

With the marks of 1854's Hazel and 1935's Connie, Diane and Ione still visible in some places, beach residents took the warning seriously.

Bernard Jahnke, 34, Room 313, St. Elizabeth hospital, has decided hoola hoops are for the birds.

The 6-foot, 3-inch father of five children was getting a lesson in hoola hooping from his daughter Lynn, 11, and son Kenneth, 9, at their home at 306 E. Frances street. He hardly got the hoop underway when his right knee gave out. A cartilage was torn. Jahnke has no idea how the children are coming along with their own hooping—he hasn't seen them for a week.

There was violence also in France. A De Gaulle campaign worker was killed and three other supporters of the premier were injured at Toulouse by a group of about 15 men who attacked them with clubs, pistols and bottles of flaming gasoline.

Here in capsule form is what the new constitution provides for the projected fifth republic:

Porker Loose But Bacon Brought Back

There was one little pig that wouldn't go to market this morning.

The peripatetic porker loosed his shackles at the pig fair about 10 a. m. and wandered off toward College avenue duly chased by observers.

He managed to avoid all corners, including two Appleton policemen summoned to the scene, but finally met his match at Badger and College avenues where he was captured and taken back to the fair. This is known as bringing back the bacon.

Duck Season Opens Next Wednesday

Shooting Starts at 5:24; Wardens Say Fair Concentrations of Teal, Mallards Noted in Rivers, Lakes

The first of Wisconsin's major gun seasons opens next Wednesday morning when ducks and geese become legal targets for state shooters. Shooting starts at 5:24 in the morning and closes at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on opening day. The bag limit is four ducks, including not more than two canvasbacks or two redheads or 1 of each. Possession limit is 8 including not more than four canvasbacks or four redheads or four in the aggregate of both. There is no open season on woodducks. The duck season closes Dec. 9. The first full weekend of duck hunting calls for shooting to start at 5:27 in the morning on Saturday, Oct. 4, and 5:28 on Sunday, Oct. 5. Closing time on both days is 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Fair concentrations of migratory hunting stamps must be attached to the small game licenses of all waterfowl hunters over 16 years of age. The duck population in the Fox Cities area is considered no more than normal or, if anything, less than usual, by most field observers. Whatever shooting is to come to local hunters will have to be provided by local ducks since flights from the north have not yet started. There are at least fair concentrations of mallards and teal in the lakes and along the Wolf river, according to conservation wardens. Some conservation officials have predicted there will be a good flight of northern ducks down the Mississippi flyaway from the Canadian prairie breeding areas where second nestings were fairly successful. Canvasbacks and redheads will be down somewhat late in the fall from the Canadian north country. But hunters will have to use extra caution when shooting these species since new laws provide that a hunter may kill no more than two of either breed of birds on a single day. Ross Leffler, assistant secretary of the interior for fish and wildlife, said the new rule was designed to spare more canvasbacks and redheads for next year's nesting. He said similar limitations on shooting of certain specified species may be a normal thing in the future. It might be a good idea, too, for hunters to keep in mind that the conservation department has established rest areas on Lakes Poygan, Winneconne, and Butte des Morts for the purpose of protecting waterfowl. All the rest areas are in open water and marked with orange and white buoys. Signs have been attached to and 5:28 on Sunday, Oct. 5, advise hunters. It is unlawful to shoot at or disturb ducks resting in these areas.

Game Club Holds Shoot Sunday

The Outagamie County Conservation club will conduct a trap shoot at its club farms Sunday starting at 10 o'clock in the morning. Ammunition and targets are available at the range, according to club President Al Fischer. Shooting is open to anyone who wants to sharpen his shooting eye for the upcoming hunting seasons. Fischer said. All you have to do is bring your own gun. Refreshments are served through the day.

That's Fishing

Geary, Okla. — Baines Kerr cast for hours without getting so much as a nibble while fishing. Completely whipped, he tossed out the lure and handed the rod to his 5-year-old daughter, Suzanne. She reeled in a 2-pound bass.

Ralph "Buck" Klenke, 774 Cleveland street, Neenah, bagged his third bear in as many years with bow and arrow in Florence county. The bear weighed about 225 pounds. Klenke said he scored a clean kill with his first shot.

Question Amount Of Money Spent on Trout Improvement Total May be Too Great for Sport Which Draws Minority of Anglers

Madison — Is too great a share of the state fisheries budget being plowed into the improvement of trout fishing, which attracts only a small minority of the licensed fishermen, resident and non-resident? The question is bound to rise as a result of the policy review of the state fish management program held here

Revise System For Selling Fish Licenses

Because too many non-residents submit to the temptation to pose as residents for purchase of fishing licenses, the conservation commission has ordered a revision of fishing license distribution to make such falsified applications more difficult. Under the new system the county clerks and their agents will be exclusively responsible for the sale of resident fishing permits. Higher Cost The department's own depots and agents will be cancelled, in order to make checking of the license stubs more effective. The result will be a somewhat higher cost for licensing distribution, since many of the department agents were issuing licenses without a commission, while the law provides for a commission payment to the county clerks, most of whom share the commissions with the agents they appoint. But that cost would be made up easily by the more efficient detection and denial of non-residents who have been buying the lower cost resident permits when they should be taxed as non-residents under the law, said E. T. Baxter, chief of the department's license distribution. The system would also be consistent with the distribution of hunting and trapping licenses, which are now distributed by the county clerks sharper—more distinct. You cross a dozen streams, officials explained.

Northern Michigan Fishing Good; Full Fall Color Near

Hardwood Stands Show Promise Of Brilliance; Pike, Bass Hitting

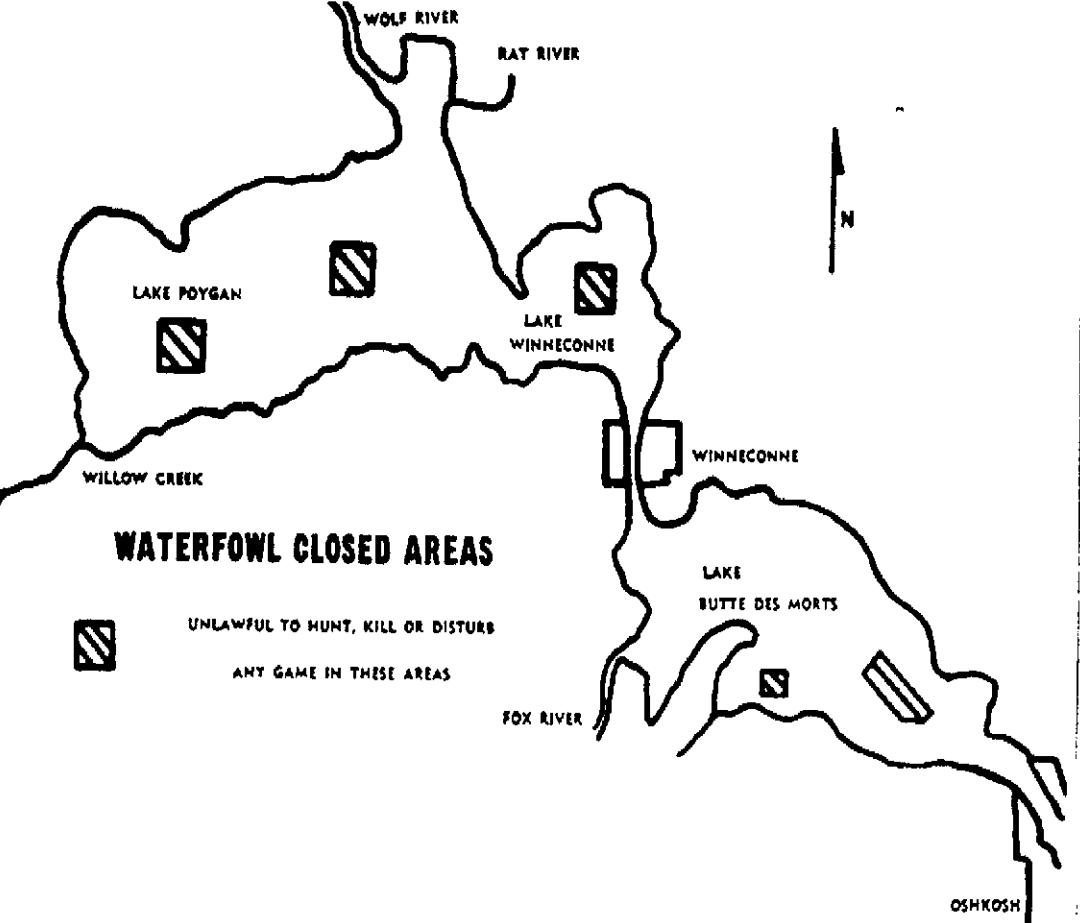

BY JAY REED Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. — This is a land in between. You stand on the prow of one of the square, ungainly craft which brings your car across the narrow strip of water which separates two nations and you see, in the distance, the tree-clogged plains and rising elevations of Canada — legendary paradise for hunters and fishermen. Over your shoulder, all but hidden in a chill, late September mist, is Michigan where you boated thick, bronze wall-eyes and chunky smallmouths. You have no time to go ahead or back and such is the tragedy of the system which provides only seven days in one week. The hardwood forest of northern Michigan is not yet at the peak of its autumn brilliance. Highway 28 from Muskegon to the Soo cuts a straight swath through a sea of fading green and you can anticipate the breath-taking fish or hunt. You can, then, here and drink in the beauty of there a maple, blood red, north country. The lakes appear to change color from yellow, rusts, delicate corals to deep blue at midday to rich azure at sunset. The AuSable river provides some of the best trout fishing in northern Michigan but since its waters are closed we choose to cover a portion of it from a canoe. Two hours on the stream will convince anyone of the beauties of Michigan's forest. The water, where it rushes over and around rocks contains colors ranging from stark whites to almost onyx black. And there are fish. You can see them. This is a good time to be in Michigan. Most of the tourists are gone. You can take a boat on almost any lake and be alone. The highways no longer are crowded and good accommodations are available without making reservations in advance. Standing on the prow of the craft which carries you between two countries you look ahead to Canada and back to Michigan. If you had time you could stay. But there will be other September. You know you'll be back.

Silent Fishermen Pose Problem for Experts

Madison — State fish experts here don't agree that fishermen brag too much. Because fishermen are reluctant to talk about their exploits, they pose a serious handicap to scientific fish management. Fishermen themselves, they add, because big stories draw competition.

Set Your Clock Saturday Night

Daylight saving time ends on Sunday. Since there is nothing more futile than being around an hour early on Sunday morning the wise man will set his clock back an hour at bed time Saturday night.

This is the end of the second season of fast time in Wisconsin. Most people appear to have made good use of the additional time and there have been no complaints, that we have heard, from those who once fought against fast time and successfully prevented its adoption for more than 30 years.

Trouble With the Children's Code

Wisconsin has a collection of laws known as the Children's Code which is intended to protect persons under 18 years of age who may get into trouble with the law.

One provision which is very confusing to most newspapers, and probably also to most citizens, is that which prevents any newspaper or other news media from identifying a youth who has been arrested and charged with a criminal offense. This rule applies to the police records from the time of the arrest until he is turned over to the court. The prohibition continues if the child's case is heard in juvenile court. However, if the court finds the boy is over 16 and under 18 the case may be transferred to criminal court. In that case he may be identified in the news.

At the moment a boy is under arrest in LaCrosse for the murder of his aunt. He has confessed the crime. However, because he was only one day over 16 years of age when the crime was committed the judge has not decided what disposition shall be made of the case. The boy now is undergoing a 60-day mental examination.

In the meantime, his name has been published in newspapers across the nation. If this boy had been one day younger he could not have been identified legally in any news report. The case could have been heard in juvenile court and he could have been committed to the State Department of Public Welfare and it might have held him in custody, probably at the Wisconsin School for Boys, until he reached 21. Since he was 16 (if only by one day) he still was entitled to have his identity kept secret unless or until his case was transferred to

It is hard to believe that the vociferous objectors to daylight time could have surrendered so quietly unless there was a good reason for it. The report is that many farmers who sincerely believed that daylight time would ruin their business have since discovered that they were needlessly alarmed. We hope that is true for many urban residents would not enjoy the extra hour of daylight fully if they felt they were imposing a hardship on their neighbors. All of the evidence indicates that fast time is a great advantage for the vast majority of Wisconsin people.

criminal court. Such serious cases are commonly transferred to criminal court, but if the juvenile judge considers it to be in the best interests of the child and the public he may hear the case in juvenile court and the child will not be publicly identified.

It appears that the name of this boy has been published illegally. However, it should be noted also that the name of the youth was widely published in connection with a search for him after the murder but before there was any charge against him. His capture and confession came about the same time and so his identity could scarcely be concealed. But other juvenile offenders have been protected against the publication of their names even though everyone concerned, including everyone living in the community, was well aware of the crime and who had committed it.

The Post-Crescent followed the practice of omitting the names of juvenile offenders in delinquency cases long before the present prohibition was written into the Children's Code. However, it has long had serious doubts about the value of this practice to the child. The help if any is to the parents who often suffer more than the child because of such publicity. What we would like to see now is a statement by the supporters of this provision in the Children's Code giving their reasons for it. Then we would like to see a study, a serious effort, to substantiate the arguments made for it. This would be an excellent project for a scientific group financed by one of the national foundations. In the same study, or perhaps in a later one, there should be an effort to learn whether juveniles have been injured by such secrecy. There is some evidence that the latter is the case.

Danger Signals From Madison

There have been a couple of items in the dispatches from Madison lately that warrant the attention of those persons who are concerned with the basic character of our provincial political institutions.

There is yet no real prospect of achieving these goals, perhaps, but there are meaningful hints from a legislative committee studying the physical construction of that gray stone castle that is the state capitol that it might be a good idea to improve the acoustics in the legislative chambers, and to install air conditioning therein.

We have a healthy respect for the persistence of political ideas, and especially those that relate to the perquisites and the comforts and the pleasures of those we have chosen to rule us.

We would warn the electorate, therefore, that these suggestions will inevitably recur, and that in some future time they probably will be enacted into appropriation law — with untoward consequences for all of us.

If the politicians at the capitol arrange affairs so that their speeches can be heard more distinctly in the galleries, in the echoing corridors, and most important of all, in the jaded press rows, proceedings will inevitably be stalled.

Many of our impatient neighbors insist that they are stalled unreasonably now, recalling that our Wisconsin legislature typically sits for a longer period than most of the legislatures of comparable states.

One of the reasons why dozens of legislatures in our history have finally been persuaded to close shop and members return to the inspection of their constituencies is climate. The capitol warms quickly in the spring. The state senate and assembly chambers become stifling in June and July. We had always privately credited our legislative calendar arrangements to the wisdom of our state constitutional fathers. They knew something of the habits of the politician, and they understood the physical limitations of men.

But if the taxpayer is tapped to pay for air conditioning, what pressure will remain for putting an end to disputation at Madison by men who love it above all other things? And if they improve the acoustics simultaneously? It is a prospect for bringing furrows to the brows of all serious men and women!

What Others are Saying

U. S. Badly Equipped In Other Languages

From The New York Times

There is nothing more humbling to the first-time traveler in a foreign land than the sudden realization that for all but the most elementary needs he is utterly helpless without some knowledge of that country's language. Even more embarrassing to the sensitive American traveler is the inescapable impression that nine out of ten foreigners he meets will have at least a small acquaintance with English, and that this will include not only those persons who have to deal directly with the tourist, such as waiters, guides and the like, but an astonishing number of quite ordinary passers-by.

It may be argued that our own capabilities would grow were we to encounter yearly as many European tourists in the United States as there are Americans overseas, but this is a valid defense against the charge that we are, of all the major powers, linguistically the most ill-equipped.

Results of a study made by language specialists under the auspices of the United States Office of Education support this charge, namely, that the linguistic competence boasted by the average American after two years of high school French or Spanish amounts to little more than the ability to say "Parley voo onglay" or "Booaynos deeahs."

Most of us unblushingly admit to having absolutely no knowledge of Latin or Greek, our excuse being that these ancient tongues are, after all, quite useless except to erudite scholars who have nothing better to do with their time than to pore over the shrouded (to us) past.

And yet we cannot claim to be living up to our responsibilities as a leader of the free world if the great majority of our citizens cannot claim mastery of any tongue but their own. Indeed, one might ask whether we are masters even of our own language these days, for we have been told that Johnny can't read or write.

Furthermore, one might ask whether Johnny can be expected to remember more than a few scattered phrases of a foreign language if he has not been given enough instruction (and the inclination) to master it.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

Democrats have their troubles. Gov. Harriman says in New York it's that Rockefeller. Harry Truman says in Arkansas it's that Little Rock feller.

Russia claims an American pilot intends to drop an H-bomb on Moscow. Better make that an H-2-0 bomb comrades—so your story will hold water.

Secretary Dulles asks a Quemoy cease-fire. It isn't so much the Reds' shelling of Chiang Kai-shek that hurts but the Democrats' bombardment of Dulles.

Question box. Q—Is Sherman Adams retiring? A—Retiring ain't the word for it. These days he's practically a recluse.

The two political parties are just folks. The Democrats, like women, love to spend money. The G.O.P., like men, spend just as much—but hate to admit it.

Agencies Lose An Incentive, Critic Claims

From a speech by John Dana Wise, vice president and general manager of Richmond (Va.) Newspapers, Inc.

By pragmatic standards, that is, by applying the test of practicality, it is probable that temporarily the establishment of a United Fund will appear to be a fine thing. It will force agencies to join the fund; it will force citizens to support agencies of the United Fund. It will raise a lot of money.

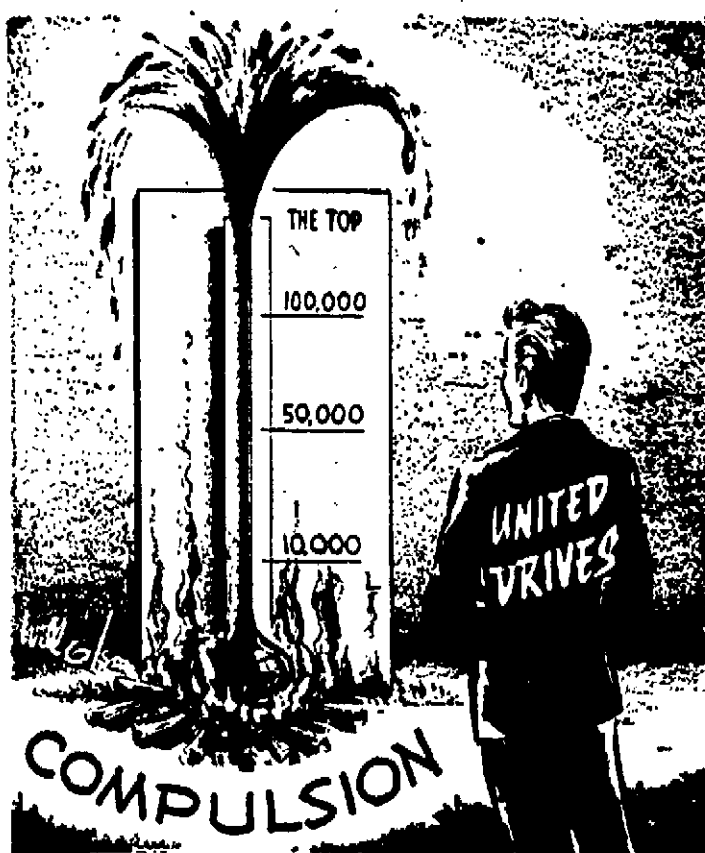

Let's take a quick look at the most recently established United Fund:

Last fall Pittsburgh held its first United Fund drive with a goal of $8,875,000, but

*A great national controversy is raging over whether money to fight disease should be raised through federated drives — United Funds, Community Chests — or by individual "disease" agencies such as the National Foundation, American Cancer Society and the like. The accompanying article summarizes the views of those who oppose federated fund-raising. Next Saturday an article will be presented on this page giving the arguments for federation.

pledges topped $10 million

- Why?
1. The majority of corporations boosted their gifts 70 to 100 per cent.
 2. Corporations pledged themselves not to make other donations to agencies outside the Fund.
 3. Corporations 'suggested' to executive personnel contributions ranging from $282 to $364. They 'suggested' to rank and file workers that they contribute one hour's pay per month per annum.
 4. In other cities and probably in Pittsburgh there was collusion between corporate executives and labor union executives to see that their employees and members met these standards.

5. Corporations agreed that they would allow only one plant solicitation and one payroll deduction — both for United Fund.

6. Corporations agreed to furnish management and workers to handle the drive and 'acquaint' employees with United Fund aims on company-paid-for-time.

Thus you have a complete picture of compulsion — the sort of compulsion absolutely necessary if Richmond's United Fund is to be successful.

It seems to me passing strange that a people steeped in the traditions of freedom to the individual should blithely proceed to put that individual in a charitable straight-jacket.

Karl Marx held to the ungodly theory that men who have shall be compelled to provide for those who have not. Is there not a frightening parallel in a United Fund that compels social agency membership? Is there any humanitarianism in a system that coerces, if not actually compels, contributions? Is it either fair or just to deny our charitable impulses to a noble social program simply because the agency of that program declines to lose its identity in a United Fund? More importantly, have we an ethical right to seek to cause others to deny their contributions or support to any agency that declines to come under our charitable umbrella?

The answer to all these questions is 'yes' if the United Fund is to succeed here as it has in Detroit and Pittsburgh and many other cities.

My friends who advocate a United Fund for Richmond tell me that their motives are these:

1. To protect manpower from the demands of numerous solicitations.
 2. To avoid the annoyance of multiple solicitations.
 3. To protect generous givers from undeserving charitable organizations.
 4. To see that charitable funds are equitably distributed through budgetary methods.
 5. To limit payroll deductions to a single operation.
- My answers to these five propositions are these:
- No one is forced or should be forced to work on any particular drive. I contend the individual should have the right to work for whatever agency or agencies he chooses or to work for none if he chooses.

Conscience is a discipline needing to be exercised, and saying "no" is a good exercise in self-discipline.

The "generous giver" should have no paternalistic committee passing judgment on his right to dispose of the products of his labor as he sees fit. The right to give to an undeserving agency is as inherent as the right to give to the most deserving agency.

In the shadowy and unscientific field of applied sociology, I doubt the competency of any committee properly to interpret the humanitarian instincts of this community.

Any corporation is free to limit plant solicitations and/or payroll deductions to any agency or combination of agencies that it desires.

By way of summary, I object to the United Funds on these grounds:

1. Compulsory humanitarianism is no humanitarianism at all.
2. Once secure in funds through the United Fund, agencies will lose an incentive to prove themselves worthy.
3. The individual may not deny his charity to agencies of which he disapproves.
4. The United Fund makes it almost impossible for any agency to survive unless it becomes a member, however worthy its ends and however noble its means.
5. No committee, or budget committee, is competent to determine what humanitarian effort will satisfy the consciences of contributors.
6. A successful United Fund is stark, unbridled materialism in action.
7. Excess of power in the hands of too few is a dangerous grant of authority.

Finally, the Community Chest has failed in its goal to consolidate charitable fund drives by voluntary means. The United Fund will finally fail to consolidate charitable fund drives by compulsory means.

Two Senators Apparently Like Trujillo

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch

One of the world's smallest but tightest dictatorships is the Dominican republic. The owner-operator is Rafael Trujillo, who styles himself generalissimo, chief and benefactor. What he wants, he gets in his country. And there is evidence that he sometimes gets what he wants outside the "republic." Item: the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez, a Trujillo critic, from New York on the night of March 12, 1956.

Yet two United States senators, James O. Eastland of Mississippi and William E. Jenner of Indiana, stopped off on the island and praised the dictator in warm terms in addresses before the Dominican legislature. Sen. Jenner said, "I can appreciate how happy and lucky you have been with the generalissimo." Sen. Eastland said: "Thank God for your country and for your leadership for freedom, for capitalism and for free enterprise."

These statements are not surprising at all in light of what Americans know of both senators. It is too bad that they are traveling about at the taxpayers expense on a so-called good-will tour of the Caribbean. Their remarks can only earn us ill-will in every country that is a democracy or has any hope of becoming one.

Tierra Amarilla, N. M. — One fisherman didn't quite understand New Mexico game laws. It cost him $100.

Negroes Have Achieved Much In United States

From A Letter to the New York Times

In the long history of mankind can there be found a single instance where an alien and enslaved minority has risen with anything approaching the speed with which the Negro has been elevated in this country?

The need today is not for more speed, but for a little perspective. There is need likewise for a little balance: accuse an American of sin and the old Puritan spirit has him instantly guilty, abased and groveling in the dust.

It is true that there is a great deal in our treatment of the Negro to cause us to feel guilt and shame. It is equally true that there is much in the progressive advancement of the Negro through the interests and efforts and actions of our predominantly white population in which we may justly take pride.

Looking Backward

Festival Decorations Beautiful

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 27, 1879.

An appropriate Thanksgiving was held at Grace Church last Sunday, with many citizens attending.

Rev. Mr. Vernor with the ladies of the church decorated the church most beautifully for the occasion. Triple connecting arches, in front of the chancel, were made of wheat, oats and barley. The golden arch was relieved at intervals with bright red mountain ash berries, over which was a Greek cross of the fruits of the field with a bunch of grapes in the center.

On the communion table rested a beautifully wrought floral cross, with bouquets in vases on either side. The cloth on the table was bordered with bunches of grapes.

The reading desk was entwined with vines, crab-apples, and flowers. In the windows, corn on the stalk, with vegetables at the base, rested. Over the chancel was an illuminated inscription in a semi-circle — "The Earth

Nixon Appears Strong Presidential Candidate

BY ELMO ROPER AND ASSOCIATES

The presidency is not yet ready to drop into Richard Nixon's lap, but nationwide survey figures show that the vice president is in a rather strong position to wage a campaign in 1960 for the nation's highest office. At present count, he is one percentage point away from an even split in intended votes:

Which of these statements comes closest to expressing your attitude toward Vice President Nixon as a possible President of the United States?

In my opinion, Nixon would make an excellent president and I'd be glad to vote for him . . . 10

While Nixon may have some drawbacks, in my opinion he would make a good president and I'd probably vote for him . . . 34

While Nixon has some good points, in my opinion he would not make a good president and I probably wouldn't vote for him . . . 30

It would be a bad thing for the country if Nixon became our next president . . . 16

Express no opinion . . . 10

Since Mr. Nixon was not pitted against an individual Democrat, this was actually a contest between a man and a party. Against a party which now has a 16 percentage point lead in the coming congressional elections (as reported in a previous column), this is a very good showing. But with a strong Democratic candidate in the picture, the results might come out differently. Representing the minority party, Mr. Nixon must rely largely on his personal standing to attract a following, whereas the 1960 Democratic nominee will presumably have vast party strength to draw upon.

Strong in Midwest

Nixon's popularity is greatest in the east and the middle west, as has been the case throughout his six years as vice president. As before, his strongest opposition comes from the south and from his own part of the country — the far west. Nixon would make —

	NE	Mid.	Far
	Pct.	Pct.	Pct.
Excellent	..14	12	5
Good	..34	40	29
Poor	..32	28	29
Bad	..10	14	19
No Opinion	..10	6	13

The south's chilliness to the prospect of Nixon in the White House no doubt stems mostly from his party affiliation, but it can't be written off as only that. In the last few years the vice president has worked quietly and steadily in behalf of Negro rights and this also may be a factor in the southern attitude.

Opposition Intense

Something else should be noted about the public's attitude toward the vice president. It is that his opponents are more intense in their opposition than his supporters are in their support. While only 10 per cent of the public think he would make an excellent president, 16 per cent are convinced that the country would actually suffer from Nixon's leadership. This is a kind of voter reaction quite different from that evoked by President Eisenhower, who two years ago was called a "wonderful" president by 28 per cent and labeled "greatly overrated" by only 10 per cent. It is perhaps understandable that a few people are willing to be super-enthusiastic about a presidential quantity still untried. But the amount of stern opposition Nixon now calls forth is a more serious handicap. Throughout his career in national politics, Mr. Nixon has aroused this intense, although lately diminishing, opposition. Memories of his early political tactics may be fading, but they have not yet been erased.

The pattern of party support is also worth noting. Although most voters answered the question along party lines, a substantial minority of Republicans do not intend — two years before the election — to support Mr. Nixon in 1960, and an even larger group of Democrats think they might very well vote for him. Independents, as would be expected, divide more closely over the vice president, but at present the balance is not in favor. Resurgent party loyalties will probably reduce this voting fluidity two years from now, but the election may well turn on just those people who don't vote as expected.

	Dem.	Rep.	Indep.
	Pct.	Pct.	Pct.
Excellent	..3	23	7
Good	..21	54	33
Poor	..40	14	33
Bad	..25	3	16
No opinion	..11	6	1

The vice president does not command the widespread support that President Eisenhower did, but he does share his popularity with women voters. While among men, unfavorable "votes" excel favorable ones by 11 percentage points, among women, he is ahead of the game by a 7 point margin.

Nixon Will Campaign for GOP in State

Probably Will be Here for One Day Late in October

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Republican state headquarters here today confirmed arrangements to have Vice President Richard Nixon spots on the map from the campaign Wisconsin late in national party's viewpoint. The national GOP headquarters is especially hopeful about winning the Wisconsin senate seat lost by the Republicans to Sen. William Proxmire, Democrat, in a special election last year.

Chairman Claude J. Jasper of the Republican state committee told reporters at a news conference the vice president, billed for campaign appearances in 12 states next month, would spend at least one day making speeches in Wisconsin.

Several Appearances

He said the date is not definitely known, but that it will be late in the month.

The vice president's itinerary is not yet fixed, but there are likely to be several appearances, it was said.

(In their preliminary discussions about the Nixon trip, local politicians had planned to route the vice president into some of the principal voting centers of the state, with stops in all likelihood at Eau Claire, Oshkosh, Milwaukee, and others.)

(Transportation arrangements here have not yet been completed, but in other states airplanes are being arranged to move the vice president with the greatest possible speed.)

Strategic Spot
The fact the Republican national committee has included Wisconsin in the Nixon tour suggests, politicians explained here informally, that Wisconsin is one of the strategic spots on the map from the campaign Wisconsin late in national party's viewpoint.

The national GOP headquarters is especially hopeful about winning the Wisconsin senate seat lost by the Republicans to Sen. William Proxmire, Democrat, in a special election last year.

Jasper said today "we are extremely happy" about Nixon's plan to tour Wisconsin and told reporters it should help the candidacy of Roland J. Steinle, the Republican nominee against Proxmire.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

A Well Read Bible Went to Moscow with Van Cliburn, the young pianist from Texas who, in winning the international Tchaikovsky contest, also won the hearts of thousands of Russians and Americans.

Van received not only technical training from his mother. "He was reared with faith from the cradle up," his father tells me.

The Van Cliburns have daily family devotionals. Before a performance in Buffalo, Van prayed with the conductor that God give them the power to make good music together.

"Without God, what could he do?" his father says. "Van never enters into anything without his faith."

"Most Economical Way Known to glass in and screen your porch or breezeway" is the way Tom Temple, of Eagle Insulation Window and Door company, describes the DeVac Ray-Vent porch enclosures shown above. "I've never seen anything to approach it in price or quality" the Appleton home products dealer said. Ray-Vent enclosures are manufactured by DeVac, Inc. of Minneapolis, Minnesota, long noted for high quality products. Phone number at Eagle is RE 3-5463. A new deluxe "Glass Wall" porch enclosure is now also offered at the Appleton firm.

DeLuxe 'Glass Wall' Porches Added To Eagle's Line of Home Products

Available now at the Eagle Insulation Window and Door company, 304 W. Parkway blvd., is a new Deluxe line of "Glass Wall" porch enclosures for homeowners desiring the utmost in porch enclosures. The units feature "more glass, less wood," according to Tom Temple, owner and are of three-light construction, allowing two-thirds ventilation, when desired.

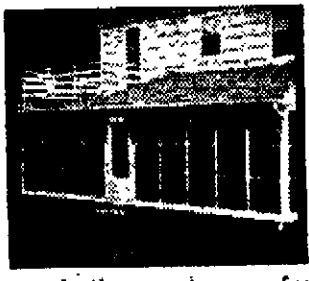

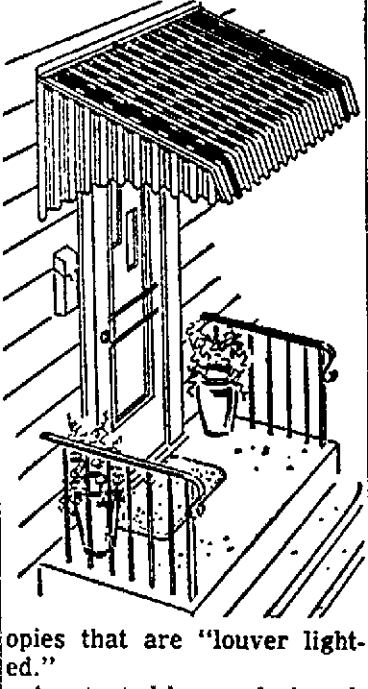

Storm windows are also available for these porches, according to Tom, making porches enclosed with the units all-year-round rooms for the family's enjoyment, with complete glass control, and presenting a finer architectural appearance.

Non-rusting fiberglass screening comes with the units, so there is no distortion or "shine" when looking also provide protection from winter's cold, summer's insects.

Inserts can be changed in a matter of seconds from the inside and they are self-storing. These windows have adjustable ventilation in winter and Koolshade provides for sun-exposed windows, and aluminum screens for shaded windows.

Aluminum Door Canopies Included in the line of home comfort products of the Eagle Insulation Window and Door company are all-weather aluminum awnings and door canopies that are "louver light-through the enclosure from within or outside. Removable screen panels give way to storm units at this time of the year, and the porch becomes a winter family room or sun porch.

Persons planning to enclose a porch or breezeway should check into these new Glass Wall units, Tom believes, for the utmost in satisfaction with their new porches.

Over fifty Fox Cities homes are already enjoying the convenience of the firm's De-Vac (standard) year-round porches, with smaller investments than their owners ever dreamed possible, according to Tom Temple.

For porch, breezeway or patio, Ray-Vent enclosures give snug, weather-tight protection in bad weather, complete control of ventilation when weather is mild.

The units consist of wood frame with full-length screen, and top and bottom glass panels that adjust quickly and easily to any position. These may be removed completely from the inside for washing.

Floor-to-ceiling type Ray-Vent units are available in standard heights of 58 inches, 66 inches, and 85 inches in combination with these widths: 24 inches, 28 inches, 32 inches, 36 inches and 40 inches. Up to 10 inches can be trimmed from the height of the units to allow for variations in porch sizes. Special sizes can also be built to order.

Outstanding features of the DeVac units include: Top and bottom glass pan-

39% Greater Sales Is Rambler Goal For '59 Models in Wisconsin Area

Sales goal for American Motors' Rambler and Metropolitan cars in the Milwaukee zone area for 1959 will be 39 per cent greater than the '58 model year, according to F. G. Lehm, zone manager, who has just returned from a dealer preview of the '59 Rambler line held at Chicago.

The Milwaukee zone covers Wisconsin and part of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. American Motors has set a national sales goal of 252,000 cars for the 1959 model year, Lehm said. This compares with anticipated sales of 170,000 cars for the '58 model year.

The new models will provide increased sales momentum for Rambler cars in the Milwaukee zone, Lehm predicted.

the same time other makes of U.S. cars were showing a sharp decline in sales. This, he said, indicates "we're giving the car buyer what he needs and wants."

Rambler retail sales in the Milwaukee zone in the first 11 months of the current fiscal year were 79 per cent greater than in the same period last year, he said. On the basis of the increased sales goal, he anticipates total sales of more than 11,500 cars for the Milwaukee zone in the 1959 model year.

The '59 Ramblers will retain the same compact dimensions as present models, he stated. They will go on sale at Rambler dealerships October 8. Rambler dealer at Forest Junction is Stebane Nash. Phone number of the firm is Forest Junction 26.

$71,000 Trade School Work Given Okay

Committee Votes Denial of Humane Society Request

Approval for the vocational and adult school board to hire an architect for an estimated $71,000 building addition was voted Thursday by the council's finance committee.

The council will vote on the action Wednesday.

Carl G. Bertram, school director, told the committee the relatively inexpensive structure would put off for at least 10 years construction of the $500,000 structure west of the school which his board sought some time ago.

Advertise in January

If the council approves, Bertram expects the board will be ready to advertise for construction bids sometime in January. This is about the time the city will be bonding for other projects, he was told.

The building will utilize footings of the present shop building east of the main building. It will be 75 by 86 feet and 10 feet high.

The exterior will be of stone, copper cornice and glass to blend with other permanent school buildings. The roof will have an insulated steel deck. The interior will be in concrete floors and concrete block.

About half of the 6,375 feet will be a warehouse. The rest will be used for shop classes and a paint spray booth to be used by city departments as well as school classes.

Other committee actions: The request of the Outagamie county Humane society for $1,000 annual appropriation was turned down.

Don Bartelt's letter requesting fencing around Reid Municipal Golf course was referred to the budget committee. He was golf professional at the course this year and cited problems which children from Madison Junior High school and the neighborhood create year-round.

Pay Plan Inadequate

Discussion between the committee and the fire and police commission showed everyone agreed the employee 3-year pay plan is inadequate. It was agreed all promotions would be from the final step of the old job classification to the final step of the new one. Committee members asked the commission to draft a new pay plan.

One fire and police commissioner asked the committee to seek a jaywalking ordinance. When asked if police would enforce it, he said they would.

Budget Hearings

St. Joseph cemetery's annual statement of maintenance costs was approved for forwarding to the county grave a year for care of veterans graves. Of a total maintenance cost of $14,273 for 5,459 graves for the year ended July 1, the cemetery association said $494 was from veterans' graves.

Ald. Malmstrom said he insists that the committee be informed of the entire budget picture — all budget requests, their total and the likely tax rate increase — before budget hearings start. The resume was promised.

City departments are to file budgets with City Clerk Broehm by Oct. 9. Hearings start Oct. 20.

Broehm reported he has written veterans housing au-

New Buick Chalks Up 20,000 Sales During First Two Days of Showings

Buick dealers sold an estimated 20,000 new cars during the first two days of the 1959 Buick on display. Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, reported today.

A representative group of 42 dealers from all parts of the country delivered 271 cars and took orders for 146 on Friday and Saturday, Ragsdale said.

"Projecting this throughout the entire country, we estimate that our 3,500 dealers sold in the neighborhood of 20,000 cars during the first two days of the 1959 models were on display," Ragsdale explained.

He said it was by far the most enthusiastic reception given any new model Buick.

Enthusiastic Public
"This is our 25th year with Buick. Attendance surpassed any showing yet and with more enthusiasm," a Dillon, S. C., dealer commented.

"Most enthusiastic public reception in our 19 years as a Buick dealer," another dealer said.

"Our dealers had about 13,000 cars in stock for the announcement," Ragsdale added. "and many of them reported they were completely out of cars by this morning." "Send more Buicks immediately," many dealers wired.

A Houston dealer reported delivery of 48 cars and said his salesmen gave 1,080 demonstration rides.

Hundreds of telegrams poured in on Ragsdale describing the enthusiastic reception given the new car by the public.

A Columbia, S. C., dealer said he had five Electras in stock for announcement and sold all of them.

An Evansville, Ind., dealer said his firm made seven deliveries in one two-hour period on Saturday.

Takes Orders
A Miami, Fla., dealer said he delivered 31 Buicks and took orders for many more. A Baltimore dealer reported delivery of 10 cars the first eight hours they were in display.

Ragsdale said all dealers reported the crowds in their showrooms were "buying crowds."

One hundred Buicks were delivered in Flint Saturday morning and Buick's two retail outlets in the city reported 138 unfilled orders on Monday morning.

Appleton Buick dealer is the Cloud Buick company, 210 N. Morrison street, where the showing of the new models aroused great public interest and many sales, the firm's officials said Friday.

Sister Trio Plays on To World Fame as Nuns

New Recording of Schubert Work
By Unique Chamber Music Group

BY HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When the young cellist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra left to enter the Immaculate Heart of Mary convent, she took her cello and musical talents along with her. In the religious life, she was able to team up once again with a violinist and pianist with whom she had been playing chamber music since childhood. They were her sisters. In the outside world they were known as the Zayen Trio and had won many prizes and a large radio audience on the West Coast.

Since 1949, as the Immaculate Heart Trio, the three sisters have gained international acclaim as a unique and superbly attuned chamber music group with a repertoire that runs from Brahms to Ravel.

In their first Capitol recording, out this month, the nuns give a shimmering, sensitive performance of Schubert's Piano Trio in E Flat Major.

The trio includes Sister M. Anthony, the cellist who played three seasons with the Los Angeles Philharmonic; Sister M. Mark, pianist and Ph. D. graduate of the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music, and Sister M. Denis, the allegro passages, bursting with vitality.

Samuel Barber's Pulitzer prize-winning opera "Vanessa," the first American opera given by the Metropolitan in 24 years and the first under the aegis of Rudolf Bing, is on the market this week in a masterful RCA Victor recording that is a certain contender for top opera album of the year honors.

Like Poulenc's recently produced "Dialogues of the Carmelites," the 4-act "Vanessa" is opera in the grand manner that is supposed to have died with Puccini but now seems headed for a major revival. Under the sure baton of Dimitri Mitropoulos, Eleanor Steber, Nicolai Gedda, Giorgio Tozzi and Rosalind Elias renew the roles that brought them salvo after salvo of balcony bravos on opening night last Jan. 15.

The only thing American about "Vanessa" is its composer. Gian-Carlo Menotti's libretto, in sometimes stilted but frequently lilting English, has to do with a tale of middle-aged love that is half Chekov and half Bronte sisters. Trite, tiresome and sometimes, particularly in the long recitative passages, almost unintelligible, it is brought to life by Barber's thrilling, wonderfully melodic score.

"Vanessa" should soon join Van Cliburn at the top of the best selling list.

RCA Victor gives customers their money's worth by filling out the sixth side of the 3-record album (which normally is left blank when the opera runs out of acts) with famous scenes from "Lucia Di Lammermoor," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "La Gioconda."

In "Virtuoso" (Capitol), the Roger Wagner chorale gives a magnificent performance of the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's "Messiah," switches to Mozart's Alleluia from Exultate Jubilate and winds up with "Polly Wolly Doodle." The range of these selections may seem disconcerting, but the choral work is among the best anywhere these days.

Finally, the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra and the Choir of St. Hedwig's cathedral in Berlin join talents for a memorable recording of Mozart's Requiem in D Minor (Capitol).

Motorist Injured As Station Wagon Plunges Downhill

New London — Michael Latimer, 24, Wausau, is in Community hospital receiving treatment for back injuries he suffered when his car plunged down Ledge hill four miles west of Hortonville about 2 o'clock this morning. Latimer, traveling north on Highway 45, missed Ledge curve and his car plunged 200 feet down the hill, struck a tree and rebounded 10 or 15 feet.

His station wagon was extensively damaged. A passer-by took him to the hospital. Outagamie traffic police, who investigated the accident, said.

OUTDOORS IN WISCONSIN Brilliant Autumn Foliage Expected

BY CLARA HUSSONG
Green Bay—Signs point to ward a more colorful fall than we've had for several years.

The reason I'm making this prediction: We've had a typical late summer season, the kind of weather which helps to produce the brilliant fall leaf coloring for which the state is famous. Warm, sunny days, cool nights, and some rain makes for the best colors, botanists say.

Last year the autumn coloring was disappointingly dull, —the year before we had one of those prolonged unseasonably warm spells which lasted all through September and October. There was little rain that fall. Leaves turned color quickly, but dropped off quickly too, before we had a chance to enjoy them.

Forests in northern counties already are beginning to show a change of color—here and there a branch of red maple or the top or side of the tree clothed in brilliant red. On a trip into Northern Michigan last week we found whole trees already doctored out in fall colors—not entire forests, but a maple here and there, or a patch of sumachs tipped with orange and red.

Dates for Best Colors
If the typical fall weather continues, Northern Michigan should be at its most colorful in the week or so following Sept. 20, and northern Wisconsin about a week later. Around Green Bay and Appleton, our best coloring should be the next week—that is, starting about Oct. 4. Those who keep track of the time when leaves are at their best, know that these dates are as close to average as possible.

Right now there are other colorful things to look at, goldenrods and asters and other fall flowers. Most of the goldenrod lives up to its name and are yellow in color, but we have at least one white one. This species is called silver-rod. It bears white blossoms on a slender wand and is often mistaken for an aster.

Common species of golden-roses, take a look at the "pre-rod" found in this area are the rock or Canada goldenrod, before the real show — the

with its spreading panicle of blooms, and the stiff or fragrant goldenrod, a flat-topped variety. Not all asters are purple. There are white, blue and lavender ones.

Many Aster Species
One of the commonest asters is the purple-stemmed variety. Its pale lavender-blue blossoms grow in an open cluster. In wooded places look for the large-leaved or wood aster. You'll recognize it by the large heart-shaped leaves, and by its small cluster of lavender-pink blossoms. Among the common white asters are the white heath and the white wreath asters.

Other late summer and fall flowers in bloom now along roadsides and in fields and woods are such yellow species as wild sunflowers, sneezeweed, bur marigold (a weed), and wild snapdragon or "but-ter and eggs." Jewel weed is blooming now in wet places — this is the little "brownie cap" flower with its jumping seeds. The juice from its waxy stem was once considered a cure for poison ivy.

Some of the blossoms to be seen now were once gathered each autumn for medicinal purposes. Two eupatorium species were favorite herbs at one time, the white blossoming one known as boneset, and the dusty rose variety—Joe Pye weed. The dried blossoms of these two were made into bitter teas which were supposed to cure a variety of illnesses.

Yarrow Is Aromatic
Yarrow is another herb in bloom now. This plant has feathery or ferny foliage and stiff clusters of dusty white blossoms. Both blossoms and leaves are very aromatic. Yarrow, camomile and worm-wood were the three herbs which smelled up our attic years ago when I was a child.

Blue vervain, chichory, nightshade and several kinds of thistles are other flowers in bloom now. Much less common than these are such favorites as the fringed gentian, which should be blossoming now in wet places, bottle gentian and cardinal flower. This last is a bright red blossom. All of these like to grow in wet ditches or along rivers and lakes.

In Good Taste Party Plan Good Idea, Family Told

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and her husband will be celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in a short while and we (the members of her family consisting of two sisters and two brothers) would like to celebrate the occasion by taking them out to dinner and dividing the check amongst us. Would it be proper to ask her husband's family to join us on this occasion and pay for their own dinners?

Answer: It would I think be a good idea to tell the husband's family of your plan and ask them if they would like to join you and share the expenses.

Caterer Right

Dear Mrs. Post: I plan a large wedding reception in a private club after the ceremony. There will be about 200 guests. I had intended using place cards to seat the guests, but the caterer told me that they are not used at a reception of this size. I think it would be very awkward and cause much confusion among the guests not to be told where to sit. What is your opinion?

Answer: Seating 200 guests with place cards definitely is not practical. As a rule only three tables are seated with place cards—the bridal table and the parents' two tables. The other guests sit where they find room with friends or relatives of their own.

Do Nothing

Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend's brother-in-law (his sister's husband) is very ill and not expected to live. In the event of death, would it be proper to send flowers or to go to the funeral home to pay my respects even though they are strangers to but as things are, it will be best to do nothing.

Answer: If you had met his sister you would send flowers,

Now! For Residents of Illinois—Indiana—Wisconsin Only

Revolutionary 65 plus Plan! Helps Pay Hospital Bills for Anyone 65 or Over!

Exclusively for those 65 or over! No medical exams!
No health questions! Money-back guarantee!

BUT...you must join before October 25!

Now—the most needed of all insurance—a hospital-surgical plan especially and exclusively for people 65 and over! At last you can ease the worries and fears of sudden, unexpected expenses. And never before has there been a hospital-surgical plan like this. This great new idea has been pioneered and proved by Continental Casualty Company, "America's No. 1 Accident and Sickness Insurance Company," famous for introducing nation-wide polio insurance.

For Illinois-Indiana-Wisconsin Residents Only

The 65-Plus plan is being offered at this time only in the states of Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. If you do not live in one of these three states, we are sorry but we will be unable to include you under 65-Plus at this time. Originally the plan was introduced one year ago, for the first time, in the state of Iowa. Now thousands of Iowans are enrolled in 65-Plus. Already hundreds of thousands of dollars in claims have been paid to Iowa's 65-Plus members.

Who Can Have 65-Plus Protection?

The answer is—anyone who is age 65 or over, regardless of physical condition. If you will be 65 by October 25, 1958, you are eligible. You can be any age over 65—even 100 or more. Yes, this is the first time there ever was such a plan developed solely for people over 65—for those who need this protection and peace of mind most. We know this sounds unbelievable—but it is TRUE. No matter what your medical history has been—no matter what your present state of health—if you are 65 or over, YOU CAN HAVE this protection.

No Medical Exams—No Health Questions Whatsoever

No... you do not have to answer any health questions. No medical examination is required. Your name, address and birth date are all we need to know. Your protection starts October 25. You are covered from that date on—and for the rest of your life—as long as you continue your policy.

We Guarantee Not to Cancel or Modify Any Individual's Policy Unless All 65-Plus Policies in Your State Are Cancelled or Modified

This insurance is based on the principle of group protection. Like group insurance, the Company cannot cancel or modify your policy, raise premium rates, or take any other action, unless it does so on ALL the 65-Plus policies issued in your state (Form No. OA12 for Illinois; No. OA13 for Indiana; No. OA48 for Wisconsin). Of course, you reserve the right to terminate whenever you wish.

Offered Limited Time Only

The only way it is possible to offer the 65-Plus plan is on the following basis:

Everyone in your state who wants this protection must sign up at the same time—that is, between now and October 25. All of these people will enjoy all the benefits and low cost formerly made possible only by group insurance.

But, most important of all, behind this plan stands all the strength and resources of Continental Casualty Company. Continental is the nation's leader in accident-sickness insurance. Continental covers more people with more kinds of accident and sickness insurance than any other company. Only from Continental Casualty Company would you expect a plan with such broad benefits for so many people.

Look At These Benefits

1. As much as $10.00 a day room and board for as long as 31 days for each hospital confinement, regardless of cause, anywhere in the world.
2. No restriction as to the number of times you are in the hospital for different causes, even if they are separated by only a few days. Confinements for the same or related causes need only be separated by six months.
3. $100 blanket allowance each time you are in the hospital, for X-ray, lab tests, operating room, anaesthetics, dressings, drugs, medicines, ambulance, prosthetic devices.
4. Surgical schedule covers every type of operation in or out of the hospital, from $5.00 to $200.00. (Example: $5 for removal of a toenail. $100 for appendectomy, $200 for removal of lung.)
5. These benefits are payable in addition to any other insurance you may have.
6. Coverage against all kinds of injuries or illnesses except those caused by war or covered by any Workmen's Compensation or Occupational Disease Law. (Confinement in federal hospitals and those operated primarily for mental illness and tuberculosis is not covered.)
7. Immediate protection against any illness or condition for which the policyholder has not been medically treated or advised; and

8. Treatment even for these existing conditions will be paid for when this treatment begins after the policy has been in effect six months.

NOTE: 65-Plus Pays IN ADDITION to Other Insurance

If you now have insurance covering hospital and surgical costs, BY ALL MEANS, continue it. Such protection is valuable. But, you are also eligible for 65-Plus, in addition to any other insurance you may have, no matter what. In these days of rising hospital and surgical costs, you should be sure you have enough protection.

Ease Your Worry Over Hospital Bills for $6.50 a Month

How much is peace of mind worth? How much does it mean not to fear the burdening expense of sickness or a sudden accident? What does it mean not to have to turn to loved ones for help? Peace of mind... freedom from worry... independence! They're worth a lot! That's what this hospitalization plan helps you achieve. You know how much better it is to plan, to budget, to be prepared. And 65-Plus costs only $6.50 per month!

Community Chest Goal Of $121,800 Highest In Campaign's History

Annual Twin City Drive Begins Monday; Solicitors to Contact Wage Earners

Neenah — The highest goal in the history of the Twin Cities Community Chest campaign will be aimed at this year with $121,800 hoped for from Neenah-Menasha residents, businesses and industry. The drive begins Monday. The Community Chest campaign in the Twin Cities has never failed to reach its goal. Last year a goal of $112,000 was aimed for.

Most wage earners in the Twin Cities will be contacted by solicitors next week. Some who traditionally contribute in advance, were contacted through the mails a week ago. There are no house-to-house solicitations in the Twin Cities. All contacts by solicitors will be made on the industrial and business level.

"If we all pay our fair share the Community Chest should have no trouble making its goal," said R. B. Sawtell, campaign chairman. Standard Contribution — Sawtell said the standard contribution is about $2 per each thousand dollars of annual income. "But it is commonly recognized," he said, "that a person's ability to give increases as his annual income rises over $5,000."

Ten youth, health and welfare agencies will share in this year's campaign. The member agencies, all of which shared in last year's drive, include: The Apostolate, Boys' Brigade, Boy Scouts, Children Service society, Community Council, Family Service, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse association, and YWCA.

Headquarters of the drive is the basement of the Neenah club where Mrs. E. J. Schulteis, chairman of collections and statistics, will register contributions as they come in. The entire campaign committee has worked for weeks to organize the drive and to publicize it. Posters have been distributed to industrial plants and business places in the Twin Cities. Street signs were put up in both Neenah and Menasha and thermometers, which will follow the progress of the campaign, are located in both communities.

Campaign chairmen for this year's Red Feather drive, in addition to Sawtell and Mrs. Schulteis, are E. William Aylward, industrial employe solicitations; John Wilterding, Keune, 24, Reedsville, Friday advanced gifts; Burt B. Fish, pleaded innocent of drunken driving on Third street at 1:44 a. m. Friday and his trial sional groups; Mrs. W. L. was set for 1:30 p. m. on Oct. 9 by Police Justice Arthur J. bank booths; Mrs. R. D. Molales. Keune posted a $125 zow, service committees and bond. TO OUR FELLOW WORKERS:

It's Red Feather Time in Neenah and Menasha

Each one of us must again shoulder his share of the responsibility for supporting the Community Chest so that all our Red Feather agencies may continue to carry on their valuable programs for another year.

We appreciate that it may be difficult for the average worker to give what he would like. However, we suggest that everyone who has the opportunity carefully consider the "20-minutes-a-month" plan. You will find it an easy way to give the amount you would like; that in this plan everyone gives in relation to the amount he earns; and that your contribution continues until you stop it. In some organizations, 100% of the workers have signed for this plan.

We of the Neenah-Menasha Labor Council and presidents of affiliate locals congratulate all those who have joined this plan. We sincerely urge you to give and give generously to this very worthy cause.

Escape Draws Gunfire

New London Neighbors See Police Kill Unwanted Visitor

New London — "Blackie," a confused and frightened species of the common musteline mammal family, figured in a police chase punctuated with gunfire here Friday.

Although signs of the excitement remain, Blackie lies in an unmarked grave in the Pines, a stand of trees owned by the New London Community hospital.

Friday was the first day the neighbors in the south-central part of the city along Pearl, Smith, Algoma and Lawrence streets got a look at the intruder. Despite his usual nocturnal wanderings, his whereabouts were suspected for some time.

Raised Alarm

Mrs. Oscar Schneider, Sr., 1322 Lawrence street, raised the alarm that proved fatal to Blackie when she saw him enter her garage about 1:05 Friday afternoon.

The police chose to take a wait and see attitude hoping to avoid a direct meeting with the visitor, but within 15 minutes Blackie started making the rounds of the neighborhood, crawling under front and rear porches apparently seeking a place to sleep.

After losing his pursuers in tall grass, he was sighted by Bob Stewart ducking under the Clarence Johnson front porch at 1214 Lawrence street.

Chase Begins

Alfred Hill removed the crowd from Blackie's range and flushed out the intruder in a chase in which he emptied his service revolver at the creature.

The chase came to an end at the William and Henry Hensel house, 1425 Algoma street, where Blackie ran into Jiggs, Hensel's dog.

In a selfless show of courage, Jiggs held Blackie at bay until Blackie forced Jiggs' retreat in his characteristic manner.

Jiggs' courage proved to be the deciding factor as police closed in on the Hensel home during the encounter and Patrolman Jack Algiers was able to pump nine shots into Blackie, who expired showering the Hensel porch to make sure New Londoners in the neighborhood will remember that Blackie, the skunk, had been in town.

The welfare unit of the Seventh Day Adventist church mended clothing for needy families and worked on a new quilt Thursday at the home of Mrs. Irvin Huntley, route 1, New London.

The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at the home of Mrs. Nellie Thompson, Northport.

Browns Appear Heavy Favorites In Eastern Division

By The Associated Press The National Football League begins operations tomorrow and while the Western conference may develop into a merry scramble, they are wondering if there is a team in the Eastern division that is capable of giving the Cleveland Browns a run.

Back on Top But last year, the Browns were right back up there at the top of the heap. The Green Bay Packers, who won the division last year, are expected to be a contender.

Not So Easy Frank Ivy, who led Edmonton of Canada's Western Interprovincial Football Union last year, is waving the baton for the Cards and has installed a double wing formation.

Wiesner's 63-Yard Run Sets Up TD

Miami, Fla. —(AP)— The University of Wisconsin football team was a bruising band of linemen and a collection of fleet and talented backs Friday night as it humbled Miami 20-0 in the season opener in the Orange bowl.

While the scoring was accomplished by quarterbacks Dale Hackbart and Sid Williams, the game's major labor, impressive enough to bring comment from the record-opening night crowd of 60,000, was turned in by the Badger line.

Coach Milt Bruhn, faced with 85 degree temperatures and high humidity, alternated two teams and substituted in them with sophomores. There was no noticeable fall off.

Wisconsin rolled up 19 first downs to 13 for the Hurricanes and gained 225 yards on the ground while the Badger defense limited Miami to 123. Wisconsin added 93 in the air, completing 9 of 18 passes, while Florida collected 105 overhead with 12 completions in 16 attempts.

Not Flashy The Badger offensive was not flashy, but powerful. The defense was ferocious and produced the breaks Wisconsin turned into the first two touchdowns.

Reserve tackle Lowell Jenkins recovered a fumble to set up the first and another reserve, center George Chryst, intercepted a pass on the Miami 38 and returned it to the 8 to gain position for the second.

The Badger line showed its best in the second half when the Hurricanes made a determined bid to get back into the game. Miami had a first down on the Wisconsin 21 when the forward wall neatly squashed Hurricane thrusts.

Miami's standout quarterback, 148-pound Fran Curci, carried the ball three times and finally surrendered the ball on the 30. The second team had a chance to show its stuff in the fourth period. Curci, almost the entire

Ghosts Jolt Shawano, Defense Glows Again

Kaukauna's 25-0 Triumph Keeps Winners Unbeaten in Mid-Eastern Loop Action

BY ED VAN BERKEL Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Kaukauna — For the second straight week the Kaukauna High school defense Ghosts' victory, setting up three touchdowns here Friday night in a 25 to 0 win over the Shawano Indians.

The running of Bill Britten who scored twice—and Bob

Britten Wurdinger

Wurdinger continued to spearhead the Kaukauna attack with Bruce Ludke and Tony Van Zealand keeping the opposition on its toes with tricky reverses. Gary Vanevenhoven made the Ghosts' passing attack also pose a threat.

25 Yards Rushing

The Kaukauna defense yielded Shawano to only 25 yards on the ground, only seven in the second half. The passing of Shawano's Bill Krenger, Tim McGuire and Harley Lyons coupled with the receiving of Ren Ketchenago and Mike Penass kept the game from becoming a runaway as various combinations clicked for 102 yards in the air.

The Indians tried 19 passes, completed six and had three intercepted. Kaukauna tried only six passes, had none intercepted and two completed, one a 52-yard touchdown affair from Vanevenhoven to Bruce Ludke. Ludke outraced the Shawano secondary for the last 30 yards to score late in the fourth period.

Late in the first quarter Kaukauna took over on the losers' 28-yard line. Britten and Wurdinger alternated carrying the ball to the 7-yard stripe from where Britten bulled off tackle for the initial touchdown. Vanevenhoven kicked the extra point. The teams exchanged punts to start the second quarter

Columbia Ends Sceptre's Faint Victory Hopes

Captures 4th Straight Win Over British Ship

Newport, R. I. —(AP)— America's cup will stay in its glass case in a room above the bar of the New York Yacht club. Any faint hopes that it would go to Great Britain sank yesterday in the bubbling wake of the United States' Cup defender, Columbia.

The powerhouse American 12-meter yacht clinched the cup with her fourth straight victory over the British challenger, Sceptre, which sailed almost half the race with a crippled rig.

Her thick aluminum alloy boom had snapped in two in a freak accident when a spinaker sheet got caught under it.

17 Fruitless Tries

The British said the things they have been saying since 1851 after seventeen fruitless tries to wrench the cup free from America.

"I quite frankly don't think we shall ever give up trying for the cup," said Hugh Goodson, a member of the syndicate that owns Sceptre.

Sceptre's designer, David Boyd, Sr., a quiet Scotsman, had little comment on Sceptre's design, his first for a 12-meter yacht. But if he were

Jansen Runs 96 Yards for TD;
Hearnden Hurls 3 Scoring Passes

Kimberly — Running up three touchdowns in the first period, Kimberly High copped its first Mid-Eastern conference and initial season victory by thumping New London, 34-0, here Friday night.

End Darrell Jansen set the Papermakers off on the right foot by running the opening kickoff back 96 yards for a touchdown. Kimberly went on to count three via the passing route and another touchdown on a run.

Jansen also scored late in the first period when he took a pass from Don Hearnden that covered 45 yards.

Find Ground Game

Kimberly's ground attack found itself for the first time this season as the winners ripped through the Bulldog line for 267 yards. The defense did an outstanding job, limiting New London to only 84 yards on the ground and 10 in the air.

Hearnden had a perfect night for the Papermakers as he tossed five aeriels, three for touchdowns, all for completions and a total of 107 yards. Joe Bolwerk tried one pass that went astray.

After Jansen's opening kickoff return, the Papermakers held New London on downs and started on a 42-yard march. Dan Vanden Heuvel scored the second tally on a 7-yard run. Bob Frassetto added the extra point.

Hearnden lofted his aerial to Jansen shortly before the period ended and Frassetto converted to make it 20-0.

In the second period Hearnden rifled a 24-yard touchdown pass to halfback Gary Kuborn. Vanden Heuvel and Dave Schimmers set the Papermakers up for the score by alternating at carrying the ball into Bulldog territory. Frassetto converted again.

Reserves Play

With reserves seeing most of the offensive action in the third and fourth periods, coach Jim Nirschl got a chance to look at his underclassmen. Dick Albrecht sparkled as he snared a 20-yard pass and scooted to the New London five. From there Hearnden put a jump pass in Ken Schumacher's bread basket for the final touchdown. Frassetto added his fourth straight extra point from placement.

New London failed to get inside the Papermaker 30-yard line. Tom Herres and Dave Langner did most of the ball carrying for the Bulldogs.

Ashburn Takes Slight Lead Over Mays

Phils Beat Friend;
Cubs, Dodgers
Split Two Games

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays couldn't do anything but hit against St. Louis pitching last weekend as he took the National league batting lead from Richie Ashburn, who couldn't do a thing against Pittsburgh.

Now Ashburn's back on top, after clipping the Pirates for a 2-for-4 performance Friday night while Mays went hitless against the Cardinals.

Sbhorn scored the winning run as Philadelphia defeated 22-game winner Bob Friend 3-2 and gained a point for a .3440 average. Mays grounded out, flied out and hit into a doubleplay, losing two points for a .3441 average, as San Francisco beat St. Louis 4-3.

Burdette Wins

While the batting race continued to run hot, Lew Burdette became a 20-game winner for the first time in his final tuneup for the world series, as the champion Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 2-1.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Cubs remained tied for sixth, splitting a two-night pair in the other NL games. The Dodgers won 6-3 then lost 2-1.

Ashburn's single triggered a two-run sixth that cracked a shutout duel between Friend (22-14) and Robin Roberts (17-14). His double came in the seventh, followed by Bobby Young's single. Roberts had a shutout until the ninth in his battle with Friend, who had won six straight.

Collar Mays

Rookie southpaw Bill Smith (0-1) and right-handed reliever Jim Brosnan-collared Mays. Johnny Antonelli (16-13) needed relief help. But the Giants nailed third with the victory.

Kimberly's ground attack found itself for the first time this season as the winners ripped through the Bulldog line for 267 yards. The defense did an outstanding job, limiting New London to only 84 yards on the ground and 10 in the air.

Hearnden had a perfect night for the Papermakers as he tossed five aeriels, three for touchdowns, all for completions and a total of 107 yards. Joe Bolwerk tried one pass that went astray.

After Jansen's opening kickoff return, the Papermakers held New London on downs and started on a 42-yard march. Dan Vanden Heuvel scored the second tally on a 7-yard run. Bob Frassetto added the extra point.

Hearnden lofted his aerial to Jansen shortly before the period ended and Frassetto converted to make it 20-0.

In the second period Hearnden rifled a 24-yard touchdown pass to halfback Gary Kuborn. Vanden Heuvel and Dave Schimmers set the Papermakers up for the score by alternating at carrying the ball into Bulldog territory. Frassetto converted again.

Reserves Play

With reserves seeing most of the offensive action in the third and fourth periods, coach Jim Nirschl got a chance to look at his underclassmen. Dick Albrecht sparkled as he snared a 20-yard pass and scooted to the New London five. From there Hearnden put a jump pass in Ken Schumacher's bread basket for the final touchdown. Frassetto added his fourth straight extra point from placement.

New London failed to get inside the Papermaker 30-yard line. Tom Herres and Dave Langner did most of the ball carrying for the Bulldogs.

AP Writer Predicts Yankees Will Win Series in 5 Games

BY BEN OLAN

New York — (AP) — This writer expects the New York Yankees to bounce back and defeat the Milwaukee Braves in a 5-game 1958 World Series.

To win in the maximum seven games last year, the Braves had to get 24 consecutive shutout innings and three victories from Lew Burdette, plus a couple of sensational catches by left fielder Wes Covington and a dramatic tenth inning homer by Ed Matusz.

The Yankees are stronger than they were a year ago. only to have Bill Skowron proved pitcher. Ryne Duren Westphal on the three and re- is a better reliever than either Bob Grim or Tommy Byrne.

Tony Kubek has settled down nicely at shortstop after flubbing a couple of pivotal plays as a third baseman in the '57 series. And Norm Siebern, the New York left fielder, can cover more ground than veteran Enos Slaughter, who started several games last year.

The Yankees will have played 155 regular season games — one tie — by the time the series opens in Milwaukee Wednesday. But nowhere in the 1958 season were they called upon to play a crucial game or series in the run-away American league race.

The Braves, with probably a stronger club than 1957, are well equipped to give the Yanks another rough time.

But it's out opinion that Casey Stengel's men will be up for this one with Skowron producing most of the timely hits and Don Larsen turning in the best pitching.

Bears 7-Point Favorites Over Bays Sunday

rookie in the starting defensive unit—Ray Nitschke, who will open at middle linebacker in place of the injured Tom Bettis. Also on defense, Len Ford and Jim Temp will be at ends, J. D. Kimmel and Dave Hanner at the tackles, Bill Forester and Carlton Massey, formerly a defensive wing, at linebackers, Billy Kinard and Hank Griminger at cornerbacks and Bobby Dillon and John Symank at deep safety.

Besides Bettis

Besides Bettis, the Packers will also have to get along without Al Carmichael, who was hurt last Sunday against the Cards. Oddly enough, each club lost ace pass catchers in the past two weeks—the Bears' Jim Dooley, who will be out most of the season with an injury, and the Bays' Ron Kramer, who may miss most of the season due to military service.

With the exception of Dooley, the Bears have their rugged offense intact for Sunday, including Ed Brown and Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback, Rick Casares at fullback, Willie Gallimore and J. C. Carlisle at halves and pass catcher Harlon Hill, Bob McColl and Bob Carey.

The Packers will be out to keep the ball and score and the key seems to be the club's rushing, meaning Shanley, Ferguson, Don McIlhenny and Paul Hornung — not to mention pass protecting for Starr, "Babe" Parilli and Joe Francis.

Take Heat Off

Packer success on offense would take some of the heat off the Bays' defense, which didn't have to face a Bear-like offense during the non-loop season.

The Packers will come up with a new face in the vital field goal department since Fred Cone first reported here back in 1951. Fred retired last year and the chores are now being performed chiefly by Hornung, with help, if necessary, from Jerry Kramer.

Also in the foot department, McGee will do the punting in the absence of specialist Dick Deschane, who was traded to Cleveland.

English Speaking Peoples Cannot Afford Prejudices, Says Sokolsky

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — Prejudice is usually a self-satisfaction. I am better than thou. Therefore I dislike thee.

In the United States a prejudice exists against the British; in England, a prejudice exists against the Irish. So, it goes around the world but it is meaningless know of? Not a chance! Geogin the context of the universal state of affairs.

We cannot afford the luxury of prejudice because should war come, we, of the English-speaking countries—to establish a category—will either stand or fall together.

Can Canada defend itself from an attack either by Russia or by the United States? Obviously, there is not a chance. Can the United States defend itself without using the tundras of Canada for its radar devices and its northern waters for submarine bases and other bases we do not believe, but rather that there, raphy pays no attention to lines drawn on maps by statesmen.

It is beyond possibility that should war come, the United States and Canada will not be forced to become an economic union. Politically they may continue to go their separate ways but will that matter? The same will be true of Great Britain and the United States which will face the need for mutual support and the support will have to be economic. It will not be Great Britain living off the United States and Canada, as some them.

will be a combining of resources and skills to meet an emergency that eerily laughs at the schemes of men. It will all have to happen quickly or it will be too late.

One sits today and watches the politics of men who seek to delay the inevitable. And what is that inevitable?

Imperialism Motive

It is that the challenge of Soviet Russia is no longer communism; the challenge of Soviet Russia and red China and the United Arab Republic is imperialism. These are the three great empires of our era and we live in the peripheral small countries that will be economically as well as politically against the empires. The empires are growing and must be growth and strength among those who oppose them.

Gaulle's constitution is adopted, France will come to closer terms with West Germany and it is likely that a pooling of resources and skills will take place in Europe under the leadership of France and West Germany.

Against such competition, Great Britain will not be able to go it alone, because it is possible that the only markets that will be left open to Great Britain will be within her own commonwealth and the United States. In the Western world, no nation, economically, can any longer go it alone.

The aim of Soviet Russia is to separate all the nations of the Western world and to foster prejudice and hate among them.

New Weapon

A shift from a petroleum economy to an atomic economy will be advantageous to Great Britain which then would be free from the need of importing huge quantities of essential fuel from the Arabian empire. Uranium comes to Great Britain from Canada and the Congo and Canada can supply all that is necessary.

In a word, the problems of strength for the Western world lie not in politics but in economics. Economic unions for defense from the empires are essential to the defense of Western civilization. An economic union among English-speaking people may be the most successfully aggressive step toward asserting strength before World War III comes. It may have the military force of a new conventional weapon like the atom bomb or the sputnik.

But it must come quickly because what is happening over Formosa proves what a narrow margin in time we have.
